

During the development of this project I was in charge of writing the plot of the game to ensure that the atmosphere of Efteling and appropriate characterization of the Efteling's characters are present, as they are two crucial key features that contribute to solving the problem case.