

The narrative design evidence includes a game concept document for 'Web Walker' and a set of narrative prompts, both designed to integrate into an educational game. The concept outlines a choose-your-own-adventure structure that influences the player's resources, while the prompts are crafted to engage players in decision-making that is reflective of real-world scenarios.